

"It's a Stetson"

EVER notice how much keen satisfaction a man puts in that phrase?

He feels that the Stetson wearer is recognized as a person of taste and discrimination.

That is one of the reasons we carry Stetson Hats. Another is to safeguard our customers against doubtful merchandise in these days of uncertain values.

You will find the Stetson Quality Mark in every Stetson Hat.

Too Much Rush in Life.

Today, as never before, the world is brimming over, pulsating with the fullness. And yet so many of us fail to sense it, to so many of us a primrose is but a primrose, a fallen leaf but a dead thing. In the rush of modern life, with its insistent demands upon our time and attention, driving ourselves from one self-made duty to another, we have missed the glory of the sunshine, the fragrance of the flowers, the beauty and charm and joy that are all about us.—Exchange.

Chinese Music Unwritten.

Chinese music is not written. The words of some of the famous songs have been preserved, but the music has been handed down from father to son for generations that go far back before the day of the troubadours. When music is played it is played according to the memory of the musician and his ideas of interpretation. A musician varies the performance as his best judgment dictates, and the strings, reeds or brass may break in at almost any time.

Swift Locomotion.

Men can run about 32 feet a second, that being the world's record for a hundred yard sprint. Contrary to common supposition, skaters are no swifter than runners, the world's records for both being precisely the same—92.5 seconds for a hundred yards. Runners on skis have, however, made as much as 72 feet a second, and in leaping on skis more than 100 feet a second is attained.

Snakes Numerous in Idaho.

Pennsylvania, one of the most prolific sections for rattlers, has at least one large snakeskin tannery and keeps hosts of people slaughtering rattlesnakes. Idaho, however, is the banner rattlesnake section of the country. Idaho has great ridges of rocks, in which are deep bowls, cracks and caves. Herein rattlers breed by the eternal thousands and offer a vast industry for rattler harvesters.

Man Responsible for Progress

The reasonable man adapts himself to the world; the unreasonable one persists in trying to adapt the world to himself. Therefore, all progress depends on the unreasonable man.—Bernard Shaw.

Only One Clear Road to Success.

No unwilling worker ever yet achieved great success, for men only succeed where they think deeply, work cheerfully and rejoice at the success of what they are working at.

Solitude.

A man thinking or working is always alone, let him be where he will. Solitude is not measured by the miles of space that intervene between a man and his fellows.—Thoreau.

Much Difference.

It would be a different world if we were as discouraged with ourselves as with other people.—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Optimistic Thought.

It is not titles that reflect honor on men, but men on their titles.

FORTUNATE FISH

LONDON, England.—Weird and wonderful are the ways of will-makers. Fifty pounds sterling a year was recently left by an eccentric old gentleman in the north of England for the upkeep of a tank of perch which he had placed in his garden. The bequest calls to mind that of a certain lady who left 79 pounds a year for the maintenance of three goldfish, provision also being made in her will for flowers to be placed on their graves. It was also affection for his pet carp, which he kept in an elegant massive bowl in his salon, which led an Italian count to leave a handsome annuity for its benefit, with special directions for its treatment.

BOYS SENTENCED TO CLEAN TOWN

WILL ACT AS WHITE WINGS UNTIL COURT IS ASSURED OF THEIR REFORMATION

JUDGE PUTS BLAME ON PARENTS

Holds Them Responsible for Infraction Of the School Law and Discipline

Hackensack, N. J.—Under the watchful eyes of a village marshal and of many unofficial eyes, six boy incendiaries, whose ages range from 13 to 15 years were cleaning the streets of Palisades Park, having been sentenced by County Judge Seufert to act as white wings in their home borough until the court is assured of their repentance and reformation.

The boys, who for several months past have acted a little worse than traditional bad boys, a short time ago, participated in setting fire to a vacant building in Morsemere. That led to their arrest for arson. It was learned that an older boy, Joseph McCullough, who admitted having started the blaze and who had been in the reformatory at Jamesburg, had been the ringleader and guide. Judge Seufert held McCullough for a return to a reformatory institution, but announced his intention of trying an experiment with the boys of more tender age.

The judge in disposing of the case in court said that a large proportion of the blame should be fixed on the parents for not having watched closely enough over the activities of their children. Continuing, Judge Seufert said:

"One of the facts difficult to deal with in the case of juvenile offenders is that the children involved will play the part of heroes among their companions. In order to eliminate this heroic element it is intended to put them to work every Saturday morning for some time on the streets of Palisades Park, at cleaning crossings, picking papers and rubbish on the roads and cleaning up around the public school building. They will be compelled to devote the whole of every Saturday morning to their tasks and will probably be in charge of some of them."

"The boys have also been prohibited from talking about or conferring with the rest of the school children concerning their experience in connection with the fire or jail, and have been impressed with the fact that a violation of any of the provisions of the probation will meet with further punishment. In addition they will be placed under the jurisdiction of Rector Viewig, of Palisades Park, to whom they will report weekly. He will receive monthly reports from the school and the parents as to the behavior of the children."

"In regard to the position of the parents in matters of this sort, the trouble the court finds in dealing with these children's cases is that truancy is the starting point and that parents pay little or no attention to the reports that come each month from school and show on their face, how many days the child was absent and how many times tardy. In some instances the parents pay little attention to whether reports are brought home or whether the child brings home a good report. The parents of each of these boys were summoned to court and personally brought before me and told in detail what their obligations are as parents and were directed to pay close attention to their children in the future."

"This case is a good illustration of the dire results of the lack of home surveillance and discipline. This is not an isolated case of truancy, but the deliberate planning and combination resulting in a gang of young miscreants not only becoming truants, but committing serious infractions of the law."

"It would be well to publish the fact that in this class of cases the court is apt to hold the parents just as responsible for the infraction of the school law and discipline as the children who commit the violation and to deal with the parents accordingly."

"It is my intention to watch with much care the working out of this penalty because of the fact that the solution of the boy question is probably the greatest problem with which the County Judge has to deal."

Judge Seufert has long manifested a kindly interest in boys and young men and is always loth to subject them to prison influences if he can punish them for their wrongdoing without sentencing them to a prison term. He always is a strict disciplinarian.

Not Finished.

"Americans are so unfinished," has been the complaint of Europeans. We are and glad of it. Yankees are starting the world with their achievements and will, we believe, stick to the habit.
